Upcoming Events

Pro Tips: Data at Your Fingertips. Find the right data for any project, no matter where it is online! Learn about open data sources and tools to make using and analyzing data easier. Join us on Wednesday, November 13 at 4:00 pm in the library, and bring your laptop! This is a Passport-credit event.

Game Night. Join us Friday, November 22 from 7:00pm-10:00pm for our final Game Night of the semester! Learn a new table top game, discover an old favorite, or bring one of your own to share! Bring your friends or come solo and meet other people who enjoy games as much as you do. Sign-ups are open for Laser Tag! Go to bit.ly/RouxLaser2 and reserve your spot today! Snacks and drinks will be provided.

Research Tip

Have you ever used a great quote from an article in your paper, only to be unable to find the article again later when it's time to cite it? How frustrating! Save yourself some time by grabbing the citation first. You can also use an application like Zotero to keep track of all your resources. You can even take notes in Zotero! Never lose a source again!

Resource Highlight

JSTOR. Search for more than 12 million academic journal articles, books, and primary sources in 75 disciplines. Also check out JSTOR's blog at daily.jstor.org for interesting articles grounded in peer-reviewed research.

Puzzle Progress

Freshman Theatre Arts major Heather Nguyen says she comes in the library to work on the puzzle when she needs a break after class. With finals coming up soon, look for more de-stress activities in the library such as crosswords, word search, Sudoku, building blocks, coloring pages, and more! The only missing piece in the puzzle is you!
