Traditional Publishing Agreement

This Agreement is between the author (Author) and ProQuest LLC, through its ProQuest® Dissertation Publishing business (ProQuest). Under this Agreement, Author grants ProQuest certain rights to preserve, archive and publish the dissertation or thesis, abstract, and index terms (the Work) provided by Author to ProQuest.

Section I. License for Inclusion of the Work in ProQuest® Publishing Program.

Grant of Rights. Author hereby grants to ProQuest the non-exclusive, worldwide right to reproduce, distribute, display and transmit the Work (in whole or in part) in such tangible and electronic formats as may be in existence now or developed in the future. Author further grants to ProQuest the right to include the abstract, bibliography and other metadata in the ProQuest Dissertations and Theses database (PQDT) and in ProQuest's Dissertation Abstracts International and any successor or related index and/or finding products or services.

ProQuest® Publishing Program - Election and Elements. The rights granted above shall be exercised according to the publishing option selected by Author on the previous Publishing Options screen, and subject to the following additional Publishing Program requirements:

- Redistribution of the Work. Except as restricted by Author in the publishing option selected, the rights granted by Author automatically include (1) the right to allow sale and distribution of the Work, in whole or in part, by agents and distributors, and (2) the right to make the Abstract, bibliographic data and any meta data associated with the Work available to search engines and harvesters.
- Restrictions. ProQuest will use commercially reasonable efforts to restrict the distribution of the Work as provided under the publishing option selected by Author or as later elected by Author through direct contact with ProQuest. Such election is subject to Author's Degree Granting Institution Directives (see below). With respect to restrictions requested after submission of the Work, Author acknowledges that ProQuest cannot recall or amend previously distributed versions of the Work. Refer to Guide 4 for information about access and restrictions.
- Removal of Work from the Program. ProQuest may elect not to distribute the Work if it believes that all necessary rights of third parties have not been secured. Refer to Guide 5 for information about copyright and your dissertation or thesis. If Author's degree is rescinded, and the degree-granting institution so directs, ProQuest will expunge the Work from its publishing program in accordance with its then current publishing policies.
- Degree Granting Institution Directives. Author is solely responsible for any conflict between policies and directions of Author's degree-granting institution, Author's choice of publishing model, and/or any restriction Author places on the use of the Work. For the avoidance of doubt, ProQuest is not responsible for access to the Work that is provided by Author's degree-granting institution through its library or institutional repository. Author must work directly with Author's degree granting institution to ensure application of any restrictions to access relating to the Work by Author's degree granting institution.

Copyright and Deposit with the Library of Congress. At Author's option, as indicated in the Register U.S. Copyright screen of the online submission process, and upon payment of the applicable fee, ProQuest will submit an application for registration of Author's copyright in the Work in Author's name. In addition, regardless of whether copyright registration of the Work is sought, ProQuest may make a copy of the Work available to the Library of Congress in digital, microform or other format as required by the Library of Congress.

Delivery of the Work. Author shall provide to ProQuest the Work and all necessary supporting documents during the online submission process, according to Guide 1: Preparing Your Manuscript for Submission.

Rights Verification. Author represents and warrants that Author is the copyright holder of the Work and has obtained all necessary rights to permit ProQuest to reproduce and distribute third party materials contained in any part of the Work, including all necessary licenses for any non-public, third party software necessary to access, display, and run or print the Work. Author is solely responsible and will indemnify ProQuest for any third party claims related to the Work as submitted for publication.

Section II. Rights pursuant to Open Access Publishing PLUS.

Author's election of Open Access Publishing PLUS as the Type of Publishing confirms Author's choice to have ProQuest publish the Work according to the Open Access Publishing PLUS option described here.

Open Access Publishing PLUS. In addition to the rights granted under Section I of this ProQuest® Publishing Agreement, ProQuest may reproduce, distribute, display and transmit the Work in electronic format in the ProQuest® Dissertations & Theses Open database (PQDT Open) or successor database(s), where it will be made available for free download. PQDT Open may be accessed by the academic community as well as through major search engines and open access harvesters. ProQuest may also provide an electronic copy of the Work to Author's degree-granting institution where it may also be posted for free open access.

Copy Sales. ProQuest and its agents and distributors may offer copies of the Work for sale in tangible media, including but not limited to microform, print and CD-ROM, as well as in electronic format either individually or as part of its electronic database and reference products and services. No royalties shall be due to Author.

Publishing Fees. Author's payment of the Open Access Publishing PLUS fee is a one-time, up-front fee. Author's institution may assess additional fees to be collected along with the Open Access Publishing PLUS fee.

Register U.S. Copyright

Congratulations on the completion of a momentous milestone in your career!

Protect Your Research

Take the next step towards protecting your intellectual property by registering your copyright with the U.S. Copyright Office. Because of the availability of content on the open web via repositories and other avenues, registering your U.S. copyright can be a significant benefit for the protection of your work. ProQuest can file all your paperwork with the U.S. Copyright Office immediately upon your dissertation approval and delivery.

No-effort Filing

Filing through ProQuest requires no additional work from you and once registration is granted, it ensures that your rights are secured to the fullest extent allowable under U.S. law. ProQuest's experienced professionals process tens of thousands of applications with the government a year, helping to streamline the process and allowing authors to focus on launching and accelerating their careers.

Copyright Protection Benefits

Registering with the U.S. Copyright Office establishes your claim to the copyright for your dissertation/thesis and provides certain protections if your copyright is violated. Once registered, your dissertation or thesis becomes eligible for statutory damages and recovery of attorney fees. Registration of a work is required prior to being able to sue for copyright infringement, and you may claim statutory damages and attorney's fees only for infringements occurring after your work is registered. Statutory damages are set out in Title 17, Section 504 of the U.S. Code, and range from $750-$150,000 USD per infringement. This contrasts with infringements occurring prior to copyright registration which are only eligible to recover actual damages with no recovery of attorneys fees.

More Benefits of Registration

- Registration establishes a public record of the author's copyright in a work
- The registration certificate serves as prima facie evidence of validity in court (if you register within five years after publication).
- Registration made prior to commencement of the infringement, or within three months of the first publication, entitles the owner to statutory damages and attorneys' fees.

If you wish, ProQuest Dissertation Publishing will act on your behalf as your agent with the U.S. Copyright Office and apply for copyright registration as part of the publishing process.

ProQuest will:

- Prepare an application in your name
- Submit your application fee
- Deposit the required copy or copies of the manuscript
- Triage any issues that arise with filing
- Mail you the completed certificate of registration from the Library of Congress
